THE SENIOR CLASS

BETHLEHEM CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

DELMAR, N. Y.

Dedication

In grateful appreciation for the sacrifices being made by our boys in the services of our country, we, the class of 1943, respectfully dedicate this Oriole.

We Seniors are approaching that important milestone of life at which we cease to look only back and around us, but turn our eyes ahead to plan for a future which seems bitter and uninviting, to say the least. Many people undoubtedly think that the future is going to hold obstacles that will be almost insurmountable for us. They are wrong! Ours is the task of establishing the peace as a secure and invulnerable part of life in the years to come. There is no task as challenging as this, but neither is there one which will bear such fruit as this, if it is done properly.

There are, necessarily, two aspects of this great job. One is the winning of this war and the annihilation of the evil powers which have attempted to disrupt the free life of man; the other is the winning of the peace by the applications of the teachings of Christ. Neither of these jobs can be completed without the other. Consequently, before we can concentrate on winning the peace, we must wait for the boys to "bring back the bacon." In fact, every member of the class may be involved in helping the boys.

It is for this reason that we thoughtfully dedicate the 1943 Oriole indirectly to all the boys in the service of our country, but directly to the boys in the armed services who have attended Bethlehem Central to whom the Oriole means more than a yearbook.

Alma Mater

Near the mountain's silent splendor
And the Hudson wide,
Nobly stands our Alma Mater
Filling us with pride.

Sing the praise of Bethlehem Central;
Fight to bring her fame;
Conquer all who dare to challenge;
Glorify her name.

Though we pass outside her portals
When our days are through,
Orange and black, her grand old colors,
We will honor you.

Sing the praise of Bethlehem Central;
Fight to bring her fame;
Conquer all who dare to challenge;
Glorify her name.

Class History of 1943

"With a Smile and a Song" the senior class entered its freshman year way back in 1939, and now in this year of 1943, this same group of students, somewhat wiser from the knowledge they have crammed in those few weeks before exams and regents, go forth from the portals of Bethlehem Central into a perplexing world. Our song of success has always been "Let's Keep Smiling." As a class we have been kept busy giving and attending functions. Let's open the record albums for the past four years and see what memories the records will bring back.

Album I or "Small Fry"—"Fools Rush In," so the upperclassmen thought when we entered our freshman year. There was the first year of Latin and Miss Knowles with her song to help us remember case endings, "Agricola, agricolae, agricolae, agricolam, agricola and that means farmer." (Ask a Latin student to finish it, if you're interested.) We gave our first dance, "The Harvest Hop," a huge success (we cleared expenses) with Art Cardney's Orchestra arriving "As If You Didn't Know" an hour late. Attending the shindig were those new couples Dick and Ruth, Art and Micky, Jane and Bill, and Phyllis and Loren. "Picnics and Hayrides," we had two that year, and both wagon-loads of fun. "Easy To Dance With" at the Freshman Party so well attended by all class members. Ping-pong, music and eats, of course. "You and I" after, at one of the kid's houses and "The Lamp is Low." Hummmph!! Maybe we'd better go along to the next volume.

Album II or "It Was Wonderful Then"—"It's You Again" back in school, jabbering about the wonderful vacation we had, and talking over summer romances, humming "To Your Heart's Content" "It Just Happened." Geometry is the new headache. Mr. Hall went over originals "More Than Once" to make them sink into our insulated domes. Hours were spent after school for Mr. Hall or Mrs. Marston, or if we were lucky, we slipped to sport practices. We also had "The Tale of Two Cities" and bridge games in English class. Remember Dick leading class meetings? Coach telling the fellows "You've Got What It Takes" to be on the Jr. Varsity? "We Three" getting darn sick and tired of being alone and working frantically on "Jim" and the other fellows for the date to the sophomore dance, "Neptune's Ball"? Bake sales following to make up the slight financial deficit. "Do I Worry"? Yes, because it's exam time and another year has gone by.

Album III or "Keep Cool, Fool." It's our turn to look down at those little freshmen pests. Most of the old couples were having a change of heart; Exception—Joan and Ted. "The Same Old Story" went the rounds about the piles of fun at sorority camp and the plans for better times next year. "Here's To Bethlehem Central" on the football field, led by Rem, Lowell sitting on the bleachers watching. We had a good basketball season that year with Art and Dick Jensen playing with the varsity, and dancing afterwards to Renny Crane's Orchestra. Doie, new editor of the paper, changed "Star Dust" to "Snoop and Tell It." The gullible student body believed Dick's campaign speeches when he said, "I Give You My Word," and so he defeated Bill. Class rings arrive! "Every Night About This Time" lessons and homework to do. "Take Me" to the Jr. Prom becomes the cry of the girls. The decorations were from "Down Mexico Way," and the music was set to "La Conga." Jane and Bill were crowned king and queen of the prom. Tennis, track meets, and cramming for exams, and then graduation night and the Senior Ball followed. "Happy in Love," you betcha!!

Album IV or "As Time Goes By"—Seniors already!!! Time flying! Work piling up, nobody worrying, much! The upstairs guidepost was willed to us by the graduating class of 1942. In the fall were cross country and basking in the sun, or playing tennis or hockey. Parties at "Glo's," and "Juke-box Saturday Night" at Sander's with the gang. Fellows were out sweating in the sun practising the "Duck-walk," for Coach Thompson was training a team to beat C. B. A. Gas rationing! Clarence "1-A in the Army"! "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas," and so it was. Fun at the Christmas Dance!! Everybody happy? Mid-years already! "I've Got My Love to Keep Me Warm," and it's a good thing! Fuel shortage! Art, Dick, Owen, Dwight, Tommy and Hammy played varsity basketball. Irv kept score and yelled his lungs out with the rest of the spectators on the bleachers, including a large number of seniors. Mick and Doie at last were varsity cheer-leaders. Walking and buses took the place of cars. Dwight was president of the class for a second year. Senior pictures! Write-ups due for Oriole! Dance recital with Miss Michaels telling us what to do next from behind the curtain. Arno taking to skirts! The girls wearing slacks to school. Jean's and Claire's plea heard for "Send Me One Dozen Roses." The "Four Roses" sang in assembly Oriole songs composed by Mac. Editor Smitty told the merits of the bigger and better Oriole. Duncan dashing across the stage pursued by the "hot" senior bandleader, Pete. Source themes and trips to the library, where we met half the class! Blitzing

Class Prophecy of 1943

LAST EVENING the telephone rang and it was Dr. Wonmug, the brilliant scientist, inviting me over to be the first to witness his latest invention. He refused to give the details of his discovery over the telephone, but said if I was interested in seeing his invention work, to come over to his laboratory the next morning. I was restless and unable to sleep the entire night in expectation of what the following day would hold in store. Dr. Wonmug only last year had discovered a time machine that would send people hundreds or thousands of years back into the past.

The next day at the earliest hour permissible to go calling, I started walking (the most popular means of transportation now) to the Doctor's house. He was awaiting my arrival. Immediately I wanted to know the nature of his new experiment. When he informed me, I was stunned for a moment upon realizing the significance of his marvelous invention. It was an improvement on his time machine, for it enabled people to be transported into the future as well as into the past. He asked me if I would care to accompany his assistant, John, on an expedition into the future. My love for adventure surpassed my fears and I readily accepted his kind offer. I asked him when we were to start. He answered, "Immediately."

In no time at all I was standing on the time platform with John, and the doctor was pulling the levers that would send us into the future. . . . .

"Ouch!!" was the inaudible sound I emitted when I landed at the airport (the "ouch" because I arrived in no airplane or parachute; inaudible because I soon discovered that no one could see or hear me). John must have landed in a different year because he was nowhere in sight.

An airplane made a landing just then. The plane came to a halt and the passengers disembarked. Why, there was Frank Hall! A group of young men followed him down the stairs, all carrying musical instruments. None of them looked familiar, except the one talking to a short brunette. Gee!! It was Jack Horahan and Dolores Unright. The first descender from the plane was walking toward me. I looked in back of me and there was a building. D-E-L—Heavens! This was evidently the Delmar Airport! But Delmar didn't have an airport. Maybe one had been built since 1943! The lady that swept by was weighed down with orchids and dressed in a stylish suit. Cameras clicked and a reporter from the Delmar Blast, Lois LeGallez, asked, "Have you a statement for the press, Miss Kronowitt?" The pilot, co-pilot and stewardess (Bill Bennett, Duncan Crook, and Frances McCormick) passed by, discussing the trip. The group parted, Frances McCormick to meet her date, Duncan bound for "Sander's," where he said Jean MacDonald was the new singing waitress, and Bill to search for the head mechanic. I learned Johnny Alden was the mechanic. So far it seemed the graduating class of 1943 was making its mark in the world.

This was Delmar all right, but what year was it? I was anxious to find out more about the town of my childhood, but how? The office would probably have records I could see.

Quickly I walked into the main office. There sat two girls busily typing. It took me some time to recognize these girls—or young ladies, I should say now. Primly trimmed were Katherine Filkins and Helen Baily, busily at work. A stunning brunette then passed by and walked into a door marked "Manager, Private." I tracked the lovely damsel into the manager's office, where some familiar language resounded in my ear. Yi! It was Irving Berman, nose deep in reports and correspondence, seeking the aid of his private secretary, Joyce Ryan. I left the two busily at work and ambled over to some filing cabinets, one of which was marked "Airport Construction." I wanted to find out just who had designed and built this streamlined structure. The architect, to my total surprise, was Ed Wheeler, and the contractor was Hammond Robertson. I also noticed some engineers for the contracting company were the war veterans, Otto Vitillo and George Dewire.

My next concern was to determine how many years ahead the time machine had projected me. As I left the office, I noticed a calendar on Helen's desk and glimpsed the year 1955. No wonder I still recognized these people!! How the town had progressed in these few years! When had the war ended?

Just then some Naval Air Officers passed and I hopelessly called out, "Hi Grant! Hi Tommy! Hi Bob!" They were some more graduates of Bethlehem Central High School, Grant Van Patten, Tommy Potter and Bob Cook, deep in discussion of the tactics they used to defeat the German and Japanese Air Force. So the war, at least, was over!! That was good news.

I decided to stroll around the town to see what other developments had been made. The airport was in an entirely new section of town. A vehicle was standing in front of the building, so I decided to borrow it to tour the town. It had a low, long body and was manufactured by a new company. It was called a "Richter"! Could it be Arno had designed the new model? The speedometer showed that the car could go at a maximum rate of 150 miles an hour. What a revolution to the automobile industry! What a pick-up the car had!

I passed by acres of farmland planted with crops. I noticed the names, Merle Barber, Ed Kleinke and Bob Furbeck on the mail boxes. Each farm had a small hothouse where these modern farmers were experimenting with scientific farming. From the looks of their homes and farms, they had met with success.

The highways had no crossings or intersections. This must surely cut down the number of accidents, I thought. But all too soon, for an ambulance siren blew, and I was soon passed by the Delmar General Hospital Ambulance. Huh! Delmar didn't—or hadn't had a hospital before! I decided to follow the ambulance and see where the new hospital was located. Red lights on every corner!! Oh for the simple Delmar of 1943 with the red light at the four corners!

The ambulance drew up to the curb. A tall, dark doctor alighted and rushed into the hospital. He looked something like, yes, it was Owen Young!! He seemed a little worried over his case and asked the girl at the switchboard if the operating room was ready. Her face also seemed familiar. By this time I almost expected everyone I saw to be a former friend and graduate of the Class of 1943, and only wished I could talk to them. The miss turned out to be the lovely blonde, Mildred Luce. Just then, Peggy Doherty, Superintendent of Nurses, followed by her assistant, Peggy Gage, passed by, and the staff increased in efficiency. Three other nurses were walking down the corridor. As they drew nearer I recognized that they were Helena McGuirk and Eleanor Moak and Claire Page. I walked down one of the corridors and entered a door marked "Diet Kitchen." There was Kay Stringham, talking to Doris Cooper about the diet she had ordered. Too much vitamin B-3, Kay thought. Leaving the hospital, I passed by the admitting office. There sat Ruth Oliver dragging on a "weed" and joking with June Epple. It was reassuring to find that human nature hadn't been marred by modern changes. Mary Thompson walked by just then bearing the hospital budget she had just figured out.

I left the hospital and headed for the school in my "Richter." Across the street behind the house on the corner of Kenwood and Oakwood Place I noticed an attractive blonde hanging out the wash. She reminded me of Joan Gilbert, but she was a little too far away to distinguish clearly.

I trotted up the walk to the school and entered by the center door. Melodious discords of harmony seeped from the auditorium followed by a female voice wailing, "Try it again!" I peeked in the door only to discover Doris Abell was the music teacher. I walked through the hall and saw on some of the doors names I remembered. On the shop door was "Irving Crocker-105." The English department was well represented by Albert Read and Janice Kunz. In the typing room was Barbara Quinlan. So the alumni hadn't deserted their alma mater.

I went into the main office, and there sat Katherine Snyder and Nina Van Dusen. The coach, whom I failed to recognize, walked in. Kay said, "What'll it be, Tom?" I looked, and sure enough it was Tommy Ottman! From the office I headed for Miss Newell's room to see who had taken her place. Imagine my surprise when I opened the door and saw Miss Newell herself standing, writing on the board with one hand, and leaning on her cane with the other!! I then ambled over to the art room and found Margaret Roberts was the teacher. Guest speaker for the day was Jane DeRonde from New York, whose water color technique was the talk of the town.

I wanted to see just one more room before I left, the science room. Bob Hicks was performing for the class an experiment dealing with a new gas Kenneth Buchanan had discovered the year before. I walked out the back door of the school and behind the track I saw a new riding stable. Allen Gallup apparently the instructor, was helping a BCHS "cutie" onto her nag.

I started walking down an unknown street and was surprised to see so many Army, Navy and Marine uniforms. Maybe some ruling had been passed for a year of compulsory military training! I soon discovered that I knew two Air Cadet officers approaching me. They were Bill Moore and George Ostrander. Soon my path was blocked by Bill Hannaway, an Air officer, and two Merchant Marine officers, Dick Laremore and Quentin Turner. All these uniforms were beginning to make me wish this was a personal appearance tour! The monotony was broken by a tall man wearing glasses and carrying books on meteorology. His secretary was with him. From her laugh I recognized Ruth Sherman, and the fellow was,—Bill Snyder, of course!!

In the next block I came across a dress shop where I howled as I looked at the dresses in the window. How the style had changed!! Jane Patterson sat inside the establishment sketching a dress for the number one society madame of Haiti, the former Peggy Mohr. Barbara Crocker was the buyer for the store. She was reading about a new metallic, synthetic material that Loren Smith had invented. A dress of this material certainly should last a long while.

I was about to cross the street, but hesitated a moment, fortunately! A car passed by so fast I was unable to see its color!! A pair of twins smartly dressed in black, on their way to lunch, commented, "There goes that Jim Chamberlain off to another wild party!" For once I was glad my "Hello" couldn't be heard, because which one was Rosamond Hall, and which one, Rosemary?

What! No entertainment in Delmar! The only explanation I could derive was that Delmar had become somewhat of a military center. Across the street was a comparatively new airplane factory, which I decided to visit. In the office were some army fellows trying to date the stenographers. There was Clarence Smith trying desperately to date Ruth Jensen!! Jim Doherty was busily talking to Shirley Frick and Helen Montysko, who were attempting to finish their work.

In a nearby office sat Olive Vogel explaining to Pete Johnson how much the company appreciated his volunteering his band to play at the Worker's Benefit Ball, but that it was unnecessary, since Helen Aiken had kindly consented to sing. A copy of the company's paper, edited by Doris Tiedeman, was lying on her desk. It announced Bob King was running for president of the company union. One of the paper's outstanding reporters turned out to be Betty Holt.

As I continued on I saw the names, "Bill Saar, Aeronautical Engineer," "Dick Simon," Chief Chemical Engineer," and then I came upon the Bookkeeping Department. There sat Dorothy Albert, Victoria Bercharlie and Bridget Benedetto, struggling to balance the accounts before the Certified Accountant, Len Tompkins, came to check the books. The Personnel Department was the next office I entered, and as the door shut, I glimpsed Betty Koonz, the Manager, with her feet on her desk, talking with her assistant, Faith Snow. Turning right at the end of the corridor, "Miss Remington" held my attention. Gee!! I wonder if Rem is still doing art work? I walked in the office and there was Virginia busy with an advertisement for the evening paper. In the office across the hall sat a man busily talking on the telephone, while his secretary, none other than Ellen Williman, was busy picking off some chipped nail-polish. On the desk was a picture of Eunice Williamson, and as I left, I heard, "Don't be late for dinner, Tommy, dear!"

The lure of the smell of food once again lead me into the plant's cafeteria, where I helped myself to a little nourishment. Deep in consultation over the menu for tomorrow were Betty Agar and Christine Norton, while Mary Eck and Hildreth Gall cracked jokes as they made sandwiches. Bill Flint then came tramping in and wanted to know, "How much milk do you want today?" Busily employed at the cash register was Charlotte Geel. I walked out of the cafeteria, smack into Dwight Ewing, John Clyne and Herbert Markell, engineers of the company, who were talking over dates for the evening.

Just then I dashed to the office at the end of the hall in response to a scream I heard. I found it was only Art Tomlinson drilling the molar of Jean Hartzell. Watching the whole affair was a little boy who said, "I'll cream him if he hurts you, Mom!"

I left the building and found myself on a busy corner. A newspaper stand was operating under the management of Glenn King. A snappy roadster drew up to the curb and a voice inquired where the nearest gas station was. The woman was Dorothea Lemieux, golf clubs and all!! Glenn told her to continue down the block and she'd come to "Chuck" Agar's Filling Station. A Naval uniform passed by, and it was some time before I realized the officer was my former classmate, Ed Haverly! James Airey and his troop of scouts passed by all equipped for an outing to commune with nature, no doubt!

My expedition had proved enjoyable since I'd seen so many people I knew, and the town of my adolescence; but I was getting tired and wished to return from that "Modernated" world of 1955 to the plain Delmar of 1943. It came to me!! Dr. Wonmug had told me that when I was ready to return I should shout, "Back to '43!" I hoped that this would work, and if it did, I wondered how much of my trip I would be able to remember!

Last Will and Testament

We, The Graduating Class of 1943, having passed the New York State Sanity Regents (65% is still passing, isn't it?), and thus believed to be in sound minds, having a great deal of nothing in particular, do lavishly bequeath it all to our fortunate (?) successors—The Junior Class.

1. The Senior Class leaves all its old pairs of shoes to the Juniors in which to walk to future dances.
2. Gloria Kronowitt gives her "skin you love to touch" and clothes to Betty Weiler.
3. To Bob Remele and Andy Granato we leave the book, "How to Dance in Ten Easy Lessons." Please use it!
4. We leave Vena Weber, Janice Jacobsen and Sue Turner to Mrs. Marston to make up for the loss of Virginia Remington.
5. Barbara Crocker hands down her "long shots" in basketball to June Grim.
6. Bill Snyder leaves his ability to originate "punny" jokes to anyone brave enough to accept. How about it, Jake?
7. To Bill Wade, Jim Chamberlain wills his hats and trinkets.
8. To the Junior Class we leave, with deep regret, Frances McCormick, who is going to P. G.
9. Ruth Oliver bestows her laughing powers to Jean Brate and her jokes to Helen Clyne. Jeanne MacDonald gives the sheer pleasure of existing to Joanne Glenn.
10. The Senior girls give exclusive rights of the couches in the nurse's office to Junior ailers.
11. Dick Simon bequeaths his leadership ability to Kenny Knapp.
12. To Jeanne Morse we give the lead in future plays and the power to aid and console Miss Skevington.
13. Doris Tiedeman donates some "fill-ins" to Barbara Lewis for the Star.
14. We are sorry to say we cannot bequeath our information on "How to Get Away With It," because we will probably need it next year, wherever we are.
15. To Roy Gillett, Arno Richter bestows the making of assembly announcements.
16. Joyce Ryan leaves her date book to Barbara Condit to fill with 4-F dates.
17. For the betterment of the world we leave Miss Crone to lecture Hitler on living correctly.
18. Joan Gilbert, Ruth Jensen, and Claire Page turn over some corrected shorthand assignments to get better marks from Mr. Hritz, to Joyce Terwilliger and Martha Taylor.
19. To the future Oriole staff Loren Smith leaves the Bible in each homeroom so they can start praying now for a 1944 Oriole.
20. Frances McCormick leaves future "front-overs" for Vena Weber to do.
21. To Hillis Miller and Betty Carlson, Doris Tiedeman and Dick Simon give a coin to flip.
22. Dwight Ewing and Owen Young bestow l'amour of the women to Johnny Leonard and Bob Cromwell.
23. Art Tomlinson wishes a winning team next year for Don Halsdorf and Bob Ogden, while Irving Berman turns over managing worries to Bob Oliver.
24. To Betty Christensen, June Epple leaves train fare to visit Bill Flint.
25. Out of the meanness of our hearts, to the Faculty we leave the thought that probably more things will be rationed next year.

This we solemnly intend to impose as our Last Will and Testament.

K.P. DUTY

Class of 1944

THIS YEAR, the Class of '44 has been very prominent in all school activities. A food sale under the management of Shirley Cedarleaf was a most profitable financial event. We sponsored a card party under the chairmanship of Robert Oliver and a War Bond raffle headed by Betty Carlson. Both of these undertakings proved to be a success. Later we held our Junior Prom under the chairmanship of Vena Weber.

Our officers are as follows:

|---|---|
| KENNETH KNAPP | President |
| SHIRLEY CEDARLEAF | Vice-President |
| BETTY WEILER | Secretary |
| JAMES EASTON | Treasurer |
| VENA WEBER, ANDREW GRANATO | Student Council Representatives |
| MRS. SALISBURY | Adviser |

Class of 1945

THE WAR didn't stop our class from having the annual sophomore dance, which proved to be a success. Aside from this we gave a party which we believe was enjoyed by all who attended.

Our officers are as follows:

|---|---|
| THURBY PATTERSON | President |
| JUNE JENSEN | Vice-President |
| SALLY MOTT | Secretary |
| WILLIAM EWING | Treasurer |

| MISS MCKEE | Faculty Adviser |

Class of 1946

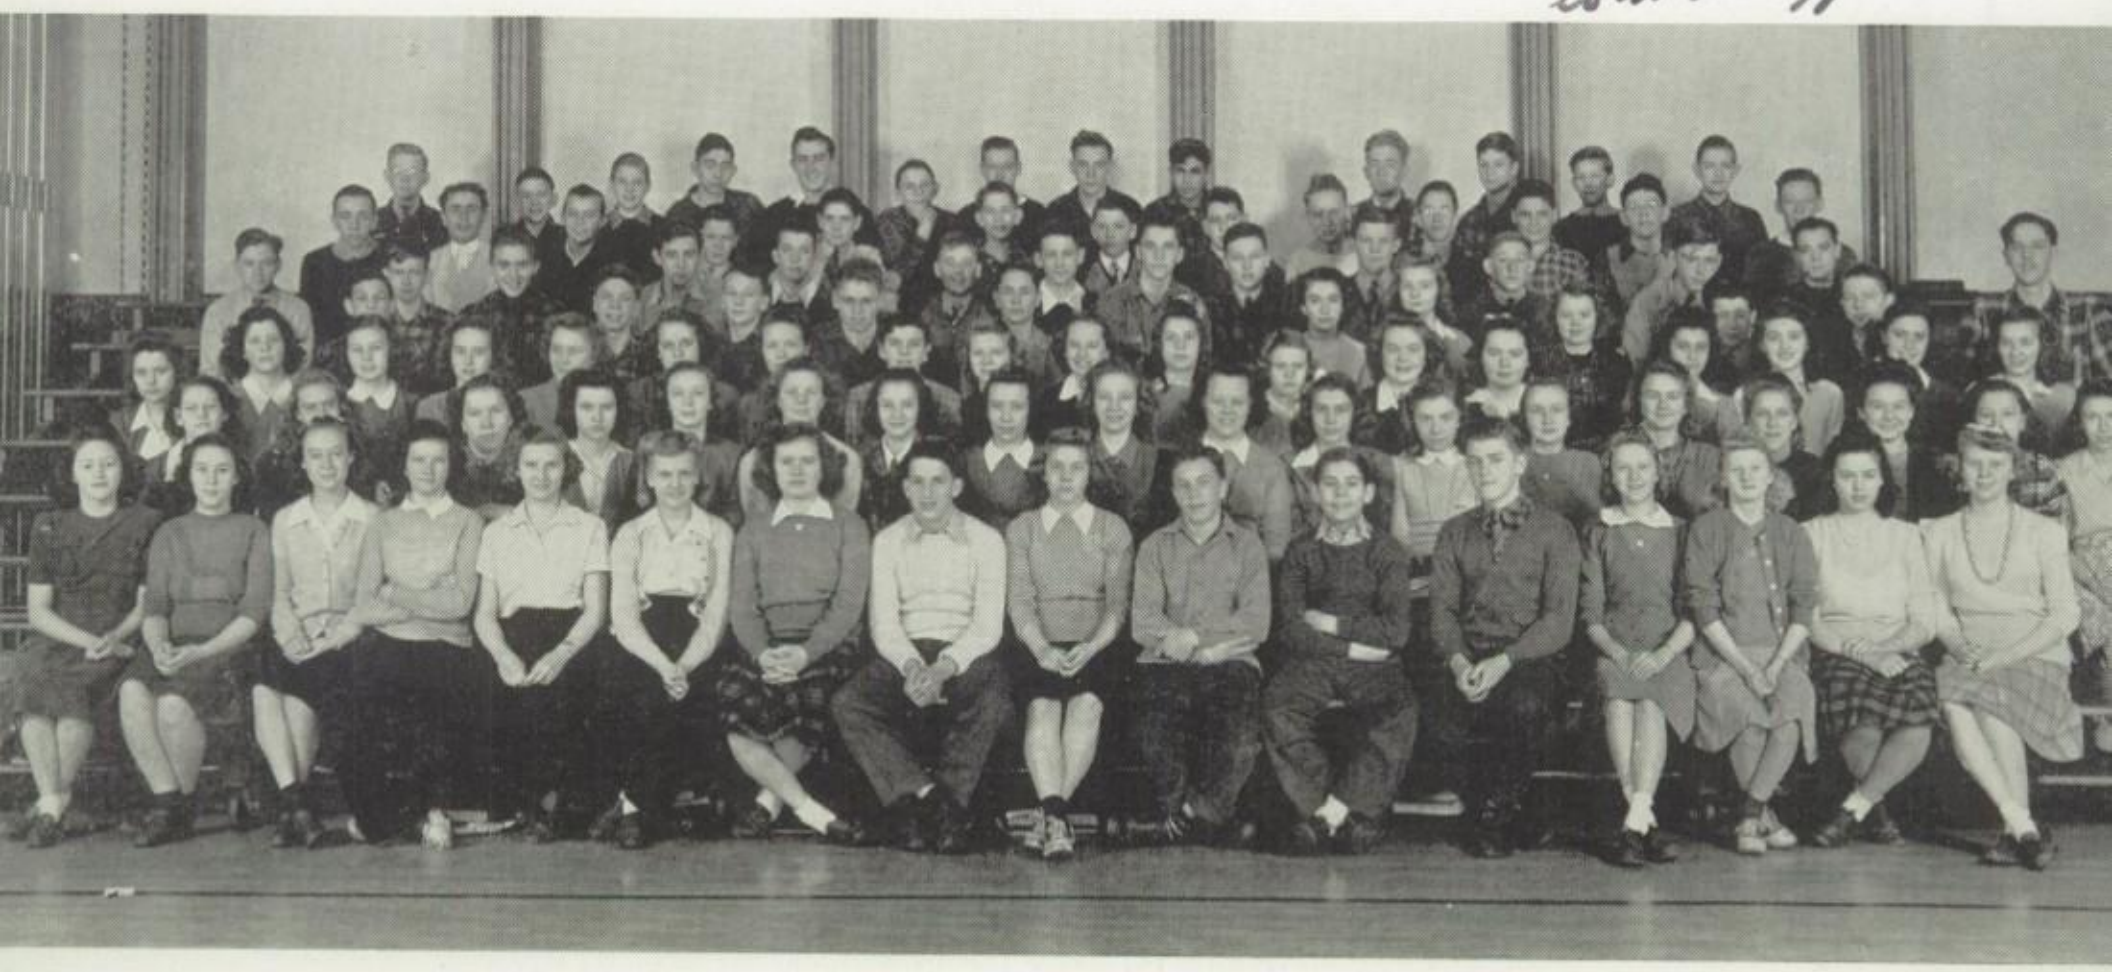
~ Tom Knapp (SWIPE)



THE CLASS OF 1946 had a dance called the "Harvest Hop," which turned out to be very successful financially and socially. We are planning another activity some time this spring.

Our officers are as follows:

|---|---|
| SAMUEL WHITING | President |
| DAVID HARTZELL | Vice-President |
| WILLIAM COLE | Secretary |
| JUNE HUNT | Treasurer |
| DANIEL BURKE | Student Council Representative |
| MISS ROBERTS | Adviser |

Class of 1947

OUR CLASS has been very active in all school activities. We topped the Junior High in War Stamp sales. We have shown ourselves socially prominent by holding two roller-skating parties and attending all informal dances. We are ambitious and hope to keep up our excellent record for the rest of our days in BCHS.

Our officers are as follows:

RICHARD TERRY ..... President
MARY LOU OGDEN ..... Vice-President
HENRY OTT-HANSEN ..... Secretary
PHILIP MILLER ..... Treasurer
BARBARA COOPER ..... Student Council Representative
MISS GREEN ..... Adviser

Class of 1948

In keeping with the times, the seventh grade has limited its social activities this year. We had one party at Hallowe'en in an effort to become better acquainted with each other. Four of our fathers, under the leadership of Mr. Hagmann, directed us in a series of relay games. We topped everything off with huge quantities of doughnuts and cider.

At Christmas time it was suggested that we buy Defense Stamps instead of giving each other holiday cards. We agreed, and soon we were selling 100%. Later the other grades followed our example.

| | |
|---|---|
| Arthur Casey | President |
| Barbara Shear | Vice-President |
| Paul Tryon | Secretary |
| Joan Geurtze | Treasurer |
| Richard Agar | Student Council Representative |
| Miss Mahaffy | Faculty Adviser |

Football

BETHLEHEM CENTRAL made a better showing in football this year than it has done in the past. Coach Thompson tackled a man-sized job by coaching, not only a victorious six-man team, but also a once-defeated and once-tied eleven-man team.

The six-man team reached its peak with a beautiful seven-victory slate with but one mar. Ravena conquered our boys in the best game of the year, 13-12. Last year we were supposed to have lost our best stars, such as, Adams, Howd, and Jones; but this year we have gained such stars as, Simon, Tomlinson, and Ewing, who are equally as good. The six-man team with these three boys at the helm made the most brilliant performance of football that has been seen on the Bethlehem gridiron.

Turning now to eleven-man football we must give credit to the so-called "greenhorns." They went through a tough season and brought back a good record, losing one to Cathedral, tying Albany Academy, and beating C. B. A., Albany Academy and Cathedral, the last two in second appearances. The last Cathedral game was a 34 to 0 combined effort on the part of the six-man team and eleven-man team. However, it was a very impressive victory. The eleven-man team came through the season successfully because of Coach Thompson's training, Ken Knapp's smart quarterbacking, George Dewire's kicking and passing, and Bill Ewing's running. Of course honors go to all the linemen who make the plays possible.

Coach Thompson deserves credit for one very good thing besides the teams he turned out. This year we had only one major injury, which is considerably low for two squads. Coach's conditioning was very successful, for it really toughened our team.

The lettermen this year were: Richard Simon, Arthur Tomlinson, James Doherty, Tom Ottman, Dwight Ewing, Irving Berman, Hammond Robertson, Jack Horahan, Herbert Markell, William Ewing, Robert Hicks, George Dewire, Kenneth Knapp, Ted Moody, Robert Ogden, John Thompson, Duncan Crook, Charles Agar, and Owen Young.

Basketball

ALTHOUGH the basketball team this year did not turn in as many wins as we had expected, they did play some good basketball. The year's record was seven games won and nine games lost, but with a few breaks it could easily have been eleven wins and five losses. That is, we lost three games by one point and one game by two points. With a couple of breaks, these games could have been won and these wins could have chalked up the best record in Central's basketball history.

The year's best performance was the game with Rensselaer in Rensselaer, although we lost by one point. Our fellows played a beautiful brand of basketball that night, and even if they did lose 44-43 by a bad break in the last twenty seconds of play, Rensselaer faced a tough opponent that night. This year's team was ably led by Captain Art Tomlinson. Don Halsdorf and Bob Ogden have been elected co-captains for the 1943-44 campaign.

This year's individual scoring was led by Don Halsdorf with 121 points, followed by Dick Simon with 105, Art Tomlinson with 84, and Tom Ottman with 79. The team averaged 32 points a game, which is an average of a point a minute.

The lettermen this year are Art Tomlinson, Don Halsdorf, Bob Ogden, Dick Simon, Tom Ottman, Dwight Ewing, Bill Ewing, Ken Knapp, Ted Moody, Owen Young, Herb Hafley, and John Leonard.

Because of traveling difficulties which will confront us next year, Coach Thompson has put our school into the newly formed Albany City League.

Baseball

OUR BASEBALL TEAM this year has only three letter men returning. They are Owen Young, this year's captain, Quentin Turner, and Herb Hafley. These three will be the nucleus of our team. Herb and Art Tomlinson will probably share the brunt of the pitching chores. Pete Goedtel and Barrie Glatt, both of whom are back from last year's squad are due for relief hurling. This year's backstop will probably be Ernie Gall, with captain Young moving to the initial sack. Herb Markell will probably be seen at second and Rudy Ochs at third, with either Art Tomlinson or Herb Hafley at shortstop. The outfield will be made up of some new faces, with Quentin Turner in leftfield, and the other two spots to be filled by Grant Van Patten, Bill Flint, and, possibly, Doug Paulsen and Ken Buchanan.

So far the team has planned four home games and four away games, but will probably fill in its schedule with a couple of games with Milne.

The boys are out to win the Northern Division of the C. H. V. L. and also to win that all-important championship of both divisions by winning at Hawkins Stadium.

Track

LAST YEAR'S TRACK TEAM beat Whitehall for the first time. This defeat of Whitehall ended her nine-year reign as Section II Champion. Although this news item pertains to last year's team, since they are our starting team this spring, it has tremendous significance.

Last year there were three records broken. They were: Frank Howd high jumped 5′ 11″, Jack Van Zandt ran the 120 yard low hurdles in 14.4, and the mile relay team of Simon, Van Zandt, Smith, and Richter did the mile in 3:42.

This year we are also expecting to see three records broken. We hope to see Arno Richter set a new time for the 440, and we also expect to see Loren Smith make it a dual affair in the 880 and mile.

The set-up for this year's team is:

100, 220, RELAY—Dick Simon, Bob Ogden, Ted Moody, Bob Oliver, Dave Hartzell, and Carl Behr.

440—Arno Richter (Section II Champion), Phil Rude, Bill Snyder, and John Leonard.

880—Ed Kleinke, Dan Darrow, Bob Cromwell, and Jim Doherty.

MILE—Loren Smith and Bob Cook.

HURDLES—Dwight Ewing, Bill Ewing, and Jack Williams.

POLE VAULT—George Dewire (Section II Champion), Ken Knapp, and Dwight Ewing.

SHOT PUT AND DISCUS—Tom Ottman, George Dewire, and Arno Richter.

BROAD JUMP—Bob Oliver, Bill Snyder, and Ken Knapp.

HIGH JUMP—Bill Snyder, Bill Ewing, and John Robertson.

Tennis

THE TENNIS TEAM this year will be composed of the following boys: Dick Simon, Art Tomlinson, Irv Berman, Ken Knapp, and Jack Leonard. Those boys who come out for tennis this year will probably see match game service during the season, in spite of war difficulties.

Because of rationing of gasoline, it is doubtful whether we will be able to duplicate last year's schedule. However, we will play Albany High, Milne, Columbia, C. B. A., and Philip Schuyler.

Varsity Club

THIS CLUB is made up of the athletes who have won an award in a major sport. Anyone winning such an award is eligible for membership. This year there were approximately twenty members.

One meeting was held early in the fall semester. Officers were elected with the following results:

Thomas Potter ..... President
Thomas Ottman ..... Vice-President
Owen Young ..... Secretary-Treasurer

Golf

THE GOLF TEAM this year will play Albany Academy, Albany High, East Greenbush, Vincentian, and a few more, as yet unscheduled, matches. Tom Potter, captain of the team, will have good material to work with as Bob Lattin, Bob Oliver, and Dwight Ewing will round out the team.

Last year we won about half of our matches, but this year we expect to have a banner season.

Badminton

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS have been devoted to Badminton this year. Many girls turned out to participate in this exciting tournament. Foremost among them were:

Bowling

THIS YEAR'S BOWLING TEAM carried on last year's fine record. The BCHS keglers finished the season with twenty-five wins and five losses to win the Central Hudson Valley League Trophy. Besides winning in the C. H. V. L., the team split six games with Philip Schuyler, each winning three on home alleys, and each winning three games from Albany High at Schade's Bowling Academy.

Next year's team will have three lettermen back to start the ball rolling, and with the aid of the boys who we expect will come out, we should have another victorious season. This year's team wishes them the best of luck for a trophy winning season. Here are this year's records:

Combined averages of C. H. V. L. and special matches:

| | Games | High 1 | High 3 | Ave. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Tompkins | 31 | 229 | 621 | 175 |

Cheerleaders

THE CHEERLEADING SQUAD started off the year with a lot of swell new cheers. Frances McCormick and Vena Weber, with their acrobatic antics, added greatly to the cheers. Although the cheerleaders couldn't accompany the teams on away games, they did a grand job at the home games.

Here's hoping that next year's squad does as well.

The varsity squad this year consisted of: Frances McCormick, captain; Doris Tiedeman, Jean Brate, Shirley Cedarleaf, June Grim, Barbara Lewis, and Vena Weber.

The junior varsity squad consisted of: Betty Christensen, captain; Jane Bahn, June Jensen, Jane Atwood, Marg Saulsbury, Helen Campbell, and Barbara Condit.

Virginia Remington, Dolores Unright, and Janice Jacobsen are songleaders.

Girls' Field Hockey

OUR HOCKEY PLAYING this year took place seventh periods and after school, and emphasis was placed on bettering our technique and developing special skills.

We participated in one playday last fall, which was held at St. Agnes, and to which four other area schools came, these being Milne, Girls Academy, and Sacred Heart Convent. The teams were mixed so that we played with girls from other schools. We made many new friends and our girls made an excellent showing.

The following girls are those who represented us this year:

Girls' Basketball

THE GIRLS' FAVORITE SPORT, basketball, was pursued this year with as much, if not more, zest than in preceding years. A record number of girls turned out for it. The season wound up in great style by a very interesting tournament. Although all the color teams did their best to win, the White Team came out on top in both the Junior and Senior High Tournaments.

Dance Group

THE DANCE GROUP was made considerably larger this year by the addition of many new members, mostly from the Junior High. These girls took a very active interest in the group and helped to make the recital a success.

After last year's "pioneering," it was comparatively simple to work up the dance recital, which was held on February 19 and was a great success. The theme, "The Four Freedoms," was carried out in four parts by the Senior High girls. The Junior High girls did "Peter and the Wolf." The profits went into the treasury of the Deputy Club to help buy sweaters for the seniors. Miss McKee's singing and the choral speaking of the boys added admirably to the striking effect of the recital.

Miss Michaels deserves a great deal of credit for directing the recital so ably and for all the other work she has done with the group during the year. Also special mention should be made of Lois LeGallez, who composed the verses which introduced each part of "The Four Freedoms."

Archery

THE GIRLS seemed to have much more interest in archery this year than they have had formerly.

Deputy Club

THE DEPUTY CLUB under the able leadership of Miss Michaels has been very active this past year. Their Activities began last fall before the football season and they have been busy with various tasks all year.

Early last fall they sponsored a big pep rally. It included a long snake dance followed by cheers and singing around a bonfire. After this display of enthusiasm, everyone went into the gym for coke and dancing.

The Deputy Club sold coke and candy at all the football games and that wound up last fall's activities.

They also helped with the production of the Dance Recital which was a great success.

As their last activity the Deputy Club has offered to sell refreshments at the new Tri-Village Nite Club.

All events have been successful and we owe a great deal of thanks to Jean Hartzell, captain of the club. Other officers were: Jean Brate, assistant captain; Shirley Cedarleaf, secretary, and Barbara Crocker, treasurer.

Color Captain

THE SYSTEM of having four color teams for sports has continued among the girls for another successful season.

The color team captains headed their respective teams in all sports, encouraged participation and co-operation, and tried to help the new girls become acquainted with the sports. This they did with the aid of their assistants.

Cross Country

CROSS COUNTRY is a comparatively new sport to B. C. H. S., and for an inexperienced team, the boys did a good job. The team was captained by an able man and a very good runner, Loren Smith. The team itself was disabled during the season by ineligibility and sickness. This fact showed up when we had eleven men for the C. B. A. meet and won, but lost twice to A. H. S. with only five men running. The record is:

| B. C. H. S. | OPPONENT |
|---|---|
| 24* | 31 C. B. A. |
| 31 | 24 A. H. S. |
| 37 | 23 A. H. S. |

This year's lettermen were Loren Smith, Arno Richter, John Leonard, Bill Snyder, Bob Cook, Ed Kleinke, Dan Darrow, and Bob Cromwell.

Lower score wins.*

ACTIVITIES

Student Council

THE INTEREST in the Student Council has been greatly increased in the last few years by the new system of electing officers. Through this system, the officers are nominated and voted on by the whole school, the interest of the students being aroused by the excellent political campaigns of the nominees. The candidates run on regular party tickets. This system tends to make the officers feel strongly the responsibilities of their offices.

The Student Council has endeavored to keep the expenses down through various new measures. For instance, in reference to athletic awards, the school will pay for only eight sweaters for the girls, and the boys who are eligible to receive sweaters will be discussed by a committee of the coaches who will decide whether or not the boy is worthy of receiving a sweater. These measures were also taken partly because the highest athletic awards of this school—sweaters—were becoming too common and they did not seem to have much value.

A new hand-book was drawn up by this year's Council, which gives helpful information to both old and new students.

One of the most important purposes of the Student Council is to help and co-operate with other school committees and clubs. This year's Council has taken an active part in the Traffic Court and has co-operated with the School Improvement Committee and the newly formed War Council.

The huge sales of Defense Bonds and Stamps were partly due to a drive aided by the Council.

This year the group was larger and more representative. The purpose of the Council continued to be to promote extra-curricular activities, encourage school spirit, and to give the students a voice in student-government.

The officers for the past year were as follows:

Richard Simon ..... President
Doris Tiedeman ..... Vice-President
Barbara Crocker ..... Secretary
Loren Smith ..... Treasurer

BCHS Star

THIS HAS BEEN a successful year for the Bethlehem Star with Doris Tiedeman as Editor-in-Chief.

The staff was unable to attend the annual conference at Syracuse due to the transportation difficulties. However, the splendid banquet planned by Barbara Lewis did much to compensate for our not being able to attend the conference.

Several new ideas which improved the paper were, "The Male Side," and the picture page. Virginia Remington deserves special credit for her splendid art work.

The Star staff wishes to thank Mrs. Denny and Mrs. Wirtz, faculty advisers, for their valuable advice and assistance in publishing the Star.

Senior High Chorus

THE SENIOR HIGH CHORUS, as well as other music organizations, has had an unusual experience this year in that we have had a change of directors at the half-way point. During the fall and early winter, we had Mr. Truitt, our friend for many years in Bethlehem Central. After mid-year exams, we had Mr. Webster for our director.

Under Mr. Truitt's direction, we prepared "Adoramus Te," "A Christmas Carol," and "Wake Thee Now, Dearest," for the Community Christmas Festival on December 18. Mr. Truitt was inducted into the Army the next day.

Since mid-year vacation, we have had for our director, Mr. Webster, a man who has had a great deal of experience in the music field. Under his direction we are preparing an operetta, "Chimes of Normandy," to be given May 21. We are also preparing a spring concert.

Frank Hall ..... President
Jean Brate ..... Vice-President
Loren Smith ..... Secretary
Shirley Cedarleaf ..... Treasurer

Junior High Girls Choir

THE JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS CHOIR consists of girls who are in the Junior High School. Under Mr. Truitt's direction we sang "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night," and "On Music's Wing."

We were all sorry to see Mr. Truitt leave us, so as a token of our appreciation for all he has done for us, we co-operated with the other music organizations in presenting him with a pen and pencil set.

Under the direction of Mr. Webster, we are preparing for the operetta to be presented this spring.

Our officers are as follows:

Eleanor Littlefield ..... President
Mary Lou Ogden ..... Vice-President
Barbara Shear ..... Secretary
Grace Gourley ..... Treasurer

Junior High Boys Choir

THE JUNIOR HIGH BOYS CHOIR sang "Lift Thy Head" and "The Pilgrims," under Mr. Truitt's direction, at the Christmas Festival. Since Mr. Truitt's departure for the Army, we have ceased to exist as a choir.

Our officers are as follows:

Richard Terry ..... President
James Martin ..... Vice-President
John Geurtze ..... Secretary
Kenneth Dewire ..... Treasurer

Orchestra

THE ORCHESTRA under Mr. Truitt prepared Schubert's "Rosamunde Overture," and "Chanson Triste." These numbers were well received at the Community Christmas Festival. It has often been said that the orchestra sounds like a professional one. A trumpet trio consisting of Fred Gillespie, David Dobell and Richard Brown played "The Old Refrain," by Kreisler.

Under Mr. Webster, the orchestra is preparing for the operetta May 21, the spring concert, and graduation.

Frank Hall ..... President
George Dewire ..... Vice-President
Loren Smith ..... Secretary
Glenn King ..... Treasurer

Senior Dramatics Club

THIS YEAR, under the capable leadership of Miss Skevington, the Senior Dramatics Club presented two assembly plays, "First Class Matter," directed by Shirley Cedarleaf, and "Last Night's Paper," directed by Jeanne Morse. Also an evening play, "Mistakes at the Blakes" was given April 16. Joyce Terwilliger and Tom Ottman played the leading roles very capably and were supported by a splendid cast.

Our meetings were devoted to acting out skits, reading plays, and learning parts. At one of our meetings an interesting talk on Haiti was given by Peg Mohr, and there was an enjoyable party before the Christmas holidays. We are able to report a most successful season.

The officers this year were:

| | |
|---|---|
| Thomas Ottman | President |
| Gloria Kronowitt | Vice-President |
| Sally Mott | Secretary |
| William Snyder | Treasurer |

Girls Hi-Y

THE GIRLS HI-Y, under the able guidance of Miss Crone, had a very successful year. Nine new members were received after a formal initiation. At Thanksgiving, the girls prepared a basket for a needy family.

Because of the war, the Girls Hi-Y activities were somewhat curtailed this year. Allowing for this unfortunate situation, the group had a grand time and expects to have as much fun next year.

The officers this year are:

| | |
|---|---|
| Ruth Jensen | President |
| Jane Patterson | Vice-President-Treasurer |
| Betty Weiler | Secretary |

The Guide System

THE DUTIES of the guides are to keep order in the corridors during class periods, collect attendance slips, distribute guide sheets and to check on students leaving classes during the school day. A special effort has been made this year to allow only students with passes to leave the building seventh period. The students from the sophomore, junior and senior classes who have been the guides, Mr. McCord, as Faculty Adviser, and Robert King, as captain, have done a successful job in carrying out the work of the guide system.

Future Farmers

THE BETHLEHEM CENTRAL FUTURE FARMERS chapter aims to develop leadership through working together. Our inter-school and other outside activities have been practically eliminated because of the war.

Some of our weekly meeting programs have been interesting. We have tried to relate them to the war effort.

Peter W. Van Zetten, our president, is vice-chairman of the Albany Group of Future Farmer chapters. He and Merle D. Barber represented the group in poultry judging at the Junior State Fair at Cortland in September. They placed eighth and sixth, respectively. At the same meeting Merle was awarded two State Association or Empire Farmer degrees.

The Albany Group held its Annual Farm Products Show at Delmar in November. Our judging teams placed first in farm crop seeds and second in potatoes.

Officers for the year:

| | |
|---|---|
| Peter W. Van Zetten | President |
| Jacob Van Zetten | Vice-President |
| William J. Perrault | Secretary |
| Leonard Tompkins | Treasurer |
| William J. Vadney | Reporter |
| Merle D. Barber | Farm Watch Dog |
| Donald Z. Terhune | Adviser |

Traffic Squad

THIS YEAR, the Traffic Squad, captained by Art Tomlinson and advised by Mr. Hall, operated very efficiently in maintaining order in the corridors. The Traffic Squad co-operated with the Guides, the School Improvement Committee, and the Student Council in conducting courts and conferring sentences to those who have violated traffic rules and regulations.

Dere Toad, (dear Adad)

This is the end one hell of a good ~~&~~ school life. What times we've had, especially in Smitty's car & our trips to Osterhouts. Your love life was exception good material for the dirt sheet, & only wish we could have published your famous Cahoga picture in the "Star" or "Oriole" and give the women a thrill. I've ridden you more than anybody & know and you know how to give and take it.

When you start your doctoring & send all my babies to you just like the rest of S.K.A. Take it easy on the women, you handsome brute.

To one of my best boy friends:
Well Ewen dear, the time has come when we must part but we're certainly had some good times in English, haven't we? I don't know who I can get to scratch my back for me but I'm sure they will never take your place!
Goodbye for now and think of me once in a while
